

Landscape Workshop Information

Monday November 23, 2009 (1:00pm-7:00pm, Moncton Coliseum Complex)

Two workshops will be offered for both managers and staff of landscape firms, with a separate seminar for staff/foreman and one for managers, and then a joint workshop to conclude.

– Landscape Foreman Workshop, 1:00pm–5:00pm led by the Nova Scotia Agriculture College

Title: Landscape Site Leadership 101

This workshop will provide the information that every crew leader should know to effectively implement various landscape operations including installation and maintenance procedures. Short information sessions followed by interactive exercises will focus on:

Site safety

Project management – dealing with resources

Time management

On the job training

– Landscape Management Workshop, 1:00pm–5:00pm led by Mark Bradley, (President of The Beach Gardener and Landscape Management Network)

The workshop will detail a full-cycle business management solution specific to the green industry – from the development of an operating budget, estimating, through to job costing.

– “Working Smarter”, 5:00pm–7:00pm led by Jim Paluch (JP Horizons)

This seminar will be joint with delegates from the Landscape Foreman Workshop and the Landscape Management Workshop and will be a 2 hour hands on workshop for foremen, supervisors, crew leaders and managers on the concepts of working smarter. Participants will not only learn the lean concepts that have energized hundreds of landscape firms throughout North America, but they will also interact with their peers in group activities. Each leader will leave inspired and prepared to put the tools to use and help their crews move forward on the path of continual improvement.

Thanks to our Landscape Workshop sponsor,
